

Not sure what you could do to make a difference on staff?

CONSIDER THESE POSSIBILITIES:

BE A CALENDAR AND SCHEDULING MAVEN

Volunteer to keep track of sports, club meetings, performances. Jot down notes during the announcements (there are often deadlines and dates mentioned). You could bridge the gap between the editors and the photo team.

BE THE COPY
Editor in Chief

If you have a natural eye for typos, offer your services. Study the AP Style Guide and your staff's own version (or offer to create one). Check out Grammar Girl for great tips (www.GrammarGirl.com)

BE THE FUN
/ FUNNY 1

Bring laughter into the staffroom when appropriate; make being in yearbook more fun.

ORGANIZE & CLEAN

THINK ABOUT Book Sales

There might be less demand for positions on the business team because not everyone understands that this team is the one who makes the yearbook of the staff's dream possible!

RUN THE INDEX

Beginning with the first deadline, run the index to make lists of those students who have already been covered enough and those who staffers should make efforts to include.
